DEATH OF THE DUKE OF ALBANY.

With profound regret we announce this morning the death of Prince Leopold, Her Majesty's youngest son, a young man of great promise, and with all the genius and love of art of his father.

It is only within the last few years that Prince Leopold figured before the public, being of delicate contitution and given greatly to study, but since his marriage His Royal Highness on frequent occasions assisted at the inaugurations of public and charitable institutions, and some of his speeches delivered on those occasions showed that he was a young man who, spite of his high birth and position, identified himself with the people and their wants, H. R. H. never to our knowledge mixed in the political affairs of his country contenting himself with the still higher role of art, and education.

We have no further details save those afforded in the telegram. It would seem that the Prince died from the effects of a fall, we suppose from his horse; but H. R. H. was from infancy always very delicate and never enjoyeed the robust health of his brothers. The sincere expressions of sympathy which Her Majesty will receive from her subjects in every part of the globe may possibly mitigate the sorrow which only a mother, at the loss of her child, knows. H. R. Leopold George Duncan Albert was born on 7th April, 1853.

SHEEP SALES.

The sales of flocks of sheep in this country are conducted pretty much on the same system as those of cattle. The buyer, no matter what his experience may be, rarely knows what he buys, unless he purchases picked sheep. Nor does the seller well know what he sells, for we never yet saw a sheep-farmer who could offer his flock for sale with the same exact precision as to age and sex of animals as the Texas farmers.

The great difficulty, however, about buying sheep is their delivery. The buyer must receive them all at the corral gate, and trust to every luck and every chance as to driving them, water, grass, corrals, etc—all are for the buyer hap-hazard on his route. We have no one in the country who attends to such matters, and we are not to be startled if we hear of a valuable purchase of good, first-class sheep for an estancia near Bahia Blanca resulting in the loss of thousands on the road, owing to the sheep being driven by the peones through camps of a certain pasturage and with weeds that are poisonous to strange sheep.

In the hope of doing some good, we publish the following notices, to show how they manage such affairs in Texas. But then we must ever remember that the Plate is in its infancy, and it is that very infancy lends to it so many charms and holds it where it is, the land 'par excellence' for the poor man and young beginner:—

No. 351.—3150 Sheep in Nolan County, on Oak Creek and tributaries. 1000 graded to shear 6½ lbs., 1500 graded to shear 7 lbs., 2? Spanish Merino bucks; all free from disease. Improvements: Box house, three rooms; 8 acres in cultivation, fine spring that never fails) within forty yards of house, balance pasture of forty acres, 3,590 acres in Sixth Oak, Bear and West Oak Creeks running through, lasting water in them. One of the best ranches in the county. Price, $16,000 for the whole outfit.

No. 352.—Located in Lubbock County, 110 miles from the city of Colorado, on the waters of Yellowhouse Creek, a two-years' lease, well set in mesquite and gramma grass; has 18 never-failing springs of water, one two-story house with five rooms, a garden, "irrigated," two dug-outs, five stone and one plank corrals, also dipping vat and boiler, two tents and camp outfit; also the following described flock of sheep:—

1242 ewes, graded to shear 6 lbs.
400 ewe lambs, graded to shear 6½ lbs.
328 wether lambs, graded to shear 8 lbs.
825 wethers, graded to shear 8 lbs.
22 bucks, graded to shear 15 lbs.

These sheep are a cross between the Spanish Merino and California—good ages.

On the above ranch there is plenty of fine range in the Yellowhouse Canyon, well protected for the winter. The above sheep, lease on ranch and camp outfit will be sold cheap for cash.

No. 353.—A most desirable Flock of Sheep located in Coleman County, Texas, described as follows:

1100 ewes two years old,
500 ewes older,
1400 lambs,
40 bucks (Spanish Merino).

The ewes shear 7 lbs. and the lambs graded to sheer 9 lbs. These sheep are in good condition, and on a most excellent range.

Their wool sold, at 40 cents per pound three years ago, and brought 27c. last season. Prefer to sell in one lot, and counsel them as a bargain, both in quality and price.

No. 355.—3000 Acres of fine Grazing Land, well set in mesquite grass, well watered, and fine timber for fencing and fuel—near Texas & the Central Railroad, in Schleicher County. Also 3000 Mexican and grade sheep and fifty fine merino bucks. The sheep are in good condition, free of disease. 2000 lin. rods fencing-posts, a comfortable dwelling-house, shutes and pens for sheep, horses, waggon and all necessary ranch tools. Will sell one-half interest in whole outfit, or will sell the land separate.

No. 356.—1800 10-pound Spanish Merino Ewes, very high grade, from one to four years old; free from disease and in fine condition. Will be delivered at Fort Worth or other points. This is one of the best flocks in Kansas. Will be sold a great bargain in 100 head lots or more. Parties wishing to buy extra fine sheep cannot do better than secure some of this flock.

No. 357.—1130 Sheep for sale and a 2000-acre sheep Ranch for rent. The ranch has a good shed and seedhouse, and is rented until September, 1884. Good corrals on the place. Sheep will shear on the average 7 to 8 lbs. Price very reasonable.

Texas is in want of 5,000,000 sheep that will shear 8 pounds of washed fine wool, two inches in length, per head each year. When that want is supplied will be time enough to say what else is wanted. These sheep could be raised in twenty counties, thirty miles square, allowing over two acres per sheep, and then not take a fifteenth part of the state. Such sheep would be a better addition to our state flocks than ten million Mexican grades more likely to be imported.

A correspondent at Montague, with 200 Mexican ewes, is feeding a bushel of corn per day. Has a good range but no hay, and the sheep have free access to cotton-seed. As the sheep are doing well and fattening, it would seem to be sufficient. One pound to one and a half pound of corn per day with plenty of roughness is generally considered to be sufficient to fatten sheep. The ration given is considerably under those quantities, and should be increased if the sheep do not gain flesh fast enough.

EUROPEAN TRADE CRISIS.

Mail after mail we have the same advices of the continued fall in prices and the depression in trade. In France there is a species of labour crisis, which has assumed the dimensions of a grave political question, and we read of meetings of the unemployed in Paris where 300,000 operatives attended. In England things are not quite so bad, and the fall in the price of food has lessened the misery which otherwise the fall in wages would have created; still there is a pressure of the unemployed felt in most parts, and even in the United States. This melancholy state of affairs seems to admit of but one remedy—Emigration. If those 300,000 unemployed French artizans could be sent by the French Government to establish French agricultural colonies in the Plate, both countries would be the gainers, but European civilization has not reached that point when such wholesale remedies for the benefit of surplus populations can be adopted. War, famine and epidemic disease are more the remedies for excessive population than emigration, and probably not in our days will there be any change in this respect. Meanwhile, the shrinking in trade in England is tremendous, and the following extracts from the London Daily News, March 1st, 1884, gives a very clear explanation of the wretched state of trade at present.

The Daily News says:—

It is no longer possible to ascribe the appearance of dull trade to the fall of prices That is to say, the diminution of aggregate turn-over, as indicated by the weekly Bankers' Clearing Houses and by the monthly Board of Trade returns is not a mere contraction of values. The country actually turns over a less bulk of merchandise—this, at least, we gather from the decreases shown week by week in the returns of goods traffic on the railways of the country. There is a greater length of railway opened in the United Kingdom by some hundreds of miles than was in use a year ago, but the receipts from goods traffic on the railways have persistently fallen off nevertheless; and, under these circumstances, it may be asserted that the volume of trade, illustrated by the movement of goods in the country, is reduced. This was an almost inevitable result of the fall of prices which has made trade so unprofitable in many quarters that a reduction or abandonment of business is the only resource open to many of those engaged in production, manufacture, or wholesale trade. Prices compared with those which ruled a year ago are much depressed. Pig-iron has fallen 10 per cent., which, however, is no source of loss to the consumers of pig-iron; for the prices of iron bars and other manufactures have fallen much less. Tin and copper are about 15 per cent. lower in price for the year. Lead is cheap, and coal is also cheaper than in February last. Chemicals are, on the whole, cheap; oils the same, excepting petroleum, the market for which has vagaries of its own. Cotton is still cheap, although not quite so depressed as a year ago. Wool is cheaper than for many years past. Silk the same. All articles of food wheat, maize, sugar, coffee, are exceedingly cheap in the wholesale markets; in short, turn where we will, the wholesale markets are in a state of depression.

As we have before insisted, the produce of remote countries is so largely brought to Europe by railways and shipping, that a definite regime of low prices has taken place, while the quick movements of steamships economize the stocks which were formerly in transitu. It has to be seen whether prices have not fallen so low as to check supplies.

Current reports from the iron districts are of depression. Orders generally seem to be falling off, and in the absence of demand the only resource left open to makers is to reduce their output. Indeed, in the north of England furnaces are in the course of being blown out, according to a trade agreement, but the market for pig iron is dull, nevertheless. Recent iron trade circulars show that the production of rails has fallen off both in England and in America from ten to fifteen per cent. during the past year.

The cotton trade is in a doubtful position. Cotton yarn and cloth good are sold at very little above the lowest selling values which were obtained at the close of last year, and the strikes have done little to improve the market. As in the iron trade, prices are supported rather by contracted productions than by an extended demand. Leeds, Bradford, Leicester, all report inactivity and sufficient stocks on hand. Machinery in the woolen industries does not appear, on the whole, to be well employed.

Chemical trade business is reported small, with a few inquiries, but a tendency to delay purchases such as implies a distrust of the market and generally speaking, trade is dull.

THE BATTLE OF SUAKIM.

DREADFUL SLAUGHTER.

Passengers by the Nord America bring news from Gibraltar to 14th. On that day a telegram reached the garrison stating that General Graham's army had a bloody but completely victorious action with Osman Digna's forces on the previous day, routing them with terrific slaughter.

The gallant 42nd (Black Watch) suffered most severely in the fight.

General Stewart was killed.

Our loss was 80 killed and one hundred wounded. That of the enemy was 3000 killed and five thousand wounded.

LONDON LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

AFTER THE BATTLE.

March 4th.

So the battle did take place on Friday last after all. The Khedive's dispatch stating that on that morning a battle had been going on since 11 a.m. made us all a little nervous, as we did not for hours hear more about it, and do not expect battles with savage tribes to last so long. It was afterwards reported that the advance of the British troops had been postponed until the Saturday or following day. However, on Saturday morning at about 11 a.m., the Central News had the honour of receiving a genuine and not an expanded telegram, giving an account of the battle before any of the newspapers had received their dispatches. These came tumbling in by degrees, and now we know all about, it, and have reason to be proud of our gallant troops and their leader General Graham. The correspondent of the Daily News is happy in describing the appearance of the British forces just when they were about to engage. He says:—

"Until eleven o'clock we marched slowly onwards, with frequent halts, not replying to the enemy's fire. The view of the mounted riflemen, spread out far to the left of the 10th Hussars, and the 19th massed on the other part of the field, and of the large square, solid as a wall, and imperceptibly gliding, so to speak, across the level landscape, was extremely striking and picturesque."

The formation chosen for the march was the square or oblong with open columns of fives, with the guns and naval brigade at the corners, the camels' ambulance and baggage and the General and his Staff in the centre, and the cavalry with the 60th Rifles and Marines in the rear. The formation was similar to that adopted by Lord Chelmsford at Ulundi, and the whole scene of the battle at Teb was similar to that in Zululand.

The force consisted of about 3,700 men and was divided into two brigades. General Buller commanded the First Brigade, which was composed of the 75th, 89th, and 60th; General Davis the Second, composed of the 65th Marine Light Infantry, and the 42nd; Colonel Hamuil commanded the 75th, Green the 42nd, Ashburnham the 60th, Byam the 65th, Robinson the 89th, General Stewart the cavalry brigade, and under him Colonels Wood and Webster, of the 10th and 19th respectively. The marine infantry was in charge of Major Humphreys. The cavalry numbered about 300, and exclusive of mounted infantry consisted of the 10th and 19th Hussars.

Our men behaved splendidly. There was no confusion, no grumbling, no want of ammunition or attendance to the wounded. Everything went like a watch. The enemy, who numbered 8 to 10,000, fought like fiends, and as it appears from the statements of the prisoners, after the battle, they had no idea they were going to fight the English until they saw their faces. The Hussars charged through the Arabs again and again, but they did not run away but returned blow for blow, and charged in return, until they were shot or cut down. When the square approached the entrenchments at the village of Teb, General Graham changed front and took them on the flank and rear, thus avoiding the pits the Arabs had dug and filled with spearmen with the ingenious idea of springing up in the middle of the square as we passed to the attack. The battle lasted four hours. The troops bivouacked on the field and went on to Tokar the next morning. The garrison and beaten Arabs fled to the mountains. The enemy lost 1,500 to 2,000 men, and our killed were 28 and the wounded 142. Amongst the wounded are General Baker and Colonel Burnaby—both by-the-way amateurs or volunteers, as Baker is not in the service, and Burnaby went out as "correspondent," but wanted to try his double-barrelled rifle in action. He was one of the first to storm the trenches, and was very soon disabled.

You will read the full account of the "Battle for Prestige" as the Tories now call it; and my business is to collect opinions for your guidance in forming your views as to what the battle really was for, and now that Tokar has been reached and the garrison that had already surrendered given the option of returning with our troops or remaining with Osman Digna, what is to be done next? I must put in parenthesis, that Osman Digna was not present at the Teb during the battle, and was and is encamped at Tamanid 15 miles from Souakin, so that from what we know—which is not much—there may still be another battle near Suakin, where it is presumed our man will go not by land, but by sea, from Trinkitat where they disembarked. The country near Tamanid is hilly and much more difficult for our troops to approach in square formation, or attack the enemy with cavalry, and again the question arises, what is it all about? We have "rescued" and do not "retire." "Prestige" insists on our beating Osman & c & c.

The Nord America's Mails.

London, March 9th.

It is not the intention of the Leaders of the Conservative party to take any division on the vote for war expenditure in Egypt. They will be content with the debate which they have succeeded in raising.

The Irish members will, we understand, vote against the reference of the Merchant Shipping Bill to a Grand Committee, thus removing the last chance of a majority against the Bill being averted.

With respect to rumours current as to changes in the Cabinet certain to follow upon rejection of the Merchant Shipping Bill, we have reason to believe that in the not improbable event of the Bill being thrown out on a motion to refer it to a Grand Committee, the President of the Board of Trade will not resign.

No communication has yet taken place between Mr. Chaplin and Mr. Rowland Winn on the subject of the former gentleman's amendment to the second reading of the Franchise Bill. It is, however, generally understood that Mr. Chaplin, who has secured precedence, will yield place to Lord John Manners. In the event of Mr. Chaplin pressing his amendment the Leaders of the Opposition would not be able to bring forward theirs.

The Nord yesterday, referring to the Speech from the Throne at the opening of the Reichstag, dwells upon the pacific assurances contained in the Imperial Message, and declares that never before have circumstances been more favourable to disarmament, or, at least, partial disarmament, than at the present moment. Without disguising from itself the difficulties of carrying out such a measure, the journal believes that the general tranquillity prevailing in Europe, and the prospects of a lasting peace, now furnish a really practical basis for the execution of this scheme.

The same journal describes the account recently published of a treaty of alliance between Russia, Austria, and Germany, as purely imaginary. It also denies the report that a Russian squadron will be despatched to Suakim, adding that only one Russian war vessel will be sent, and that this step has no political significance.

The Convention summoned by the Manitoba and North-West Farmers' Union have had under consideration a motion in favour of an appeal to England to allow Manitoba to withdraw from the Canadian Federation, and to become a British colony.

The Manitoba and North-West Farmers Union Convention has adjourned, after appointing a committee to prepare a statement of its demands to be submitted to the Legislature.

The New York Herald of yesterday publishes an article in which it advocates the adoption of preventive measures regulating the shipment abroad of explosives. The journal adds:—"It is not honourable to us as a nation that our ports should become points of departure for the shipment of explosives and machinery intended for assassination in a country with which we are friendly."

The principal New York papers favour the complete withdrawal of the United States Legation from Berlin. They agree, however, that yesterday's scene in the Reichstag, as showing that the German Liberals censure Prince Bismarck's action in the Lasker incident will contribute towards allaying American irritation on the subject.

Although the connection between the opinions of the German Parliament and the policy of the German Empire is not usually apparent to the casual observer, the chronic contest of the Reichstag with Prince Bismarck is not without interest. The Session was opened last week with a speech from the throne read by Herr von Bottecher, the legislative matter in which, though small in quantity, was of a character that promises some stirring scenes in the Chamber. On the one hand, the laws for the repression of Socialists are to be re-enacted; while, on the other, the Government's scheme of State socialism is to be vigorously proceeded with. To both these measures the Progressist and National Liberal parties (the latter reinforced by the group over which Herr Lasker presided) will offer their customary opposition, which this time is likely to be peculiarly bitter because of the insult lately offered to their leader's memory. As the two groups more than balance the Governmental Conservatives, the balance of power remains as before, with the Centre. These Clerical partisans, little as they love the Chancellor, hate the Social Democrat more, and in consequence are always ready to aid him against the common enemy, but when it comes to assisting him in passing State insurance and other measures for benefiting the workman at the expense of his master, they are not such trustworthy allies, and, in fact, usually insist on full payment in the form of substantial favours to the Catholic Church. They are pretty hard bargainers too, but as Prince Bismarck needs their aid, no doubt he will as he has done before, swallow the nauseous indignity of forced concession.

A foretaste of the lively times provided for the coming Session of the Reichstag was afforded on Friday last. The speech of a Liberal Deputy expressing, in the name of numerous friends, gratitude to the American House of Representatives for their vote of condolence on Herr Lasker's death, raised, we are told, a perfect storm. This increased to a hurricane when Herr Richter protested against the unjustifiable conduct of the Chancellor in intercepting the transmission of the vote in question to the Reichstag, a remerk for which he was rebuked by the President, who officially declared that criticism of Prince Bismark was beyond the competence of Parliament. Finally, when a member pointed to a flag presented by the German ladies of New Orleans, the floodgates of Teutonic feeling were opened, and we learn that the tumult was so violent that the sitting had to be suspended, "the allusion being too much for the President and the Conservatives." It is evident that these highly-strung creatures scarcely from an ideal Parliament; still, it is quite too bad that they should not be allowed to criticise Prince Bismark, considering, too, that he neither listens to their criticism, nor allows it to influence his conduct in the slightest degree. It is a pity that he cannot emulate the late Lord Derby's historic coalheaver, who allowed his wife to beat him, because it pleased her and dinn't hurt him: but then the coalheaver showed a certain sort of magnanimity.

A cynical old bachelor, who firmly believes that all women have something to say on all subjects, recently asked a female friend: "Well madam, what do you hold on this question of female suffrage?" To him the lady responded calmly: "Sir, I hold my tongue.

THE BATTLE OF TEB.

(Concluded.)

END OF THE FIGHT.

It is one o'clock now. The duel between our artillery and that of the enemy ceases; and, as the enemy will not attack us, we move down against the position in the same order as before. We are met with a hot fire, and very frequent charges of parties of Arabs, who come on against our terrible fire just as the Afghan Ghazies did; but one by one, as they near our line, they meet a bullet, throw up their arms and pitch headlong forward to the ground. The position against which we are now moving consists of trenches and innumerable little rifle-pits, each containing two, three, or four men. As we advance slowly forward the Arabs leap suddenly out of these little pits, like rabbits startled by beaters; but very few of them fly, the great majority preferring to meet death by charging down on our ranks. So confident are our men by this time that the square formation is abandoned, and they advance to the attack in two long lines. Thus we make our way forward, clearing the ground of the enemy, until by two o'clock, after nearly three hours' incessant fighting, we have passed over the entire position occupied by the enemy. We entered it at the rear and emerged at the front. Every foot was contested by the enemy, who displayed a courage, a tenacity, and a contempt for death such as only steady troops could have withstood. There is no doubt that had General Graham's force consisted of Egyptian instead of British troops, the former disasters would have been repeated here. The close of the fight was announced by a loud cheer from the Gordon Highlanders as they passed out at the front of the enemy's position, and by a triumphant peal from the bagpipes. The conduct of the troops was admirable throughout. There was no hurry and no flinching in their movements. Considering how recklessly brave their enemy was, our men, it is but common justice to them to say, maintained the honour and the glorious traditions of British soldiers and sailors. The enemy's loss is now estimated at 1,500. In searching the bushes where the fight took place we have come upon a few badly wounded Arabs, who have been cared for to the best of our power. They say that the bulk of their men were unaware that they had to fight Englishmen until they saw their faces in the battle; only their chiefs knew, and had hidden the fact from them. They had no wish, they say, to fight the English. They have no quarrel with us, only with the Turks and Egyptians, who have oppressed and trampled upon them. On Friday evening, one of them, rushing from a heap of dead, where he had lain for some hours, leaped on the back of a sergeant of the Black Watch, and made a furious attempt to cut his throat, gashing it severely.

INSTANCES OF PERSONAL BRAVERY.

With so many instances of individual gallantry, it would (the Times' correspondent says) be invidious to particularize; but the noble manner in which the chaplains and medical corps did their work deserves record. The first man hit was in the Gordon Highlanders, while under a very severe fire; but in a moment Dr Lewis was attending him, coolly and carefully as though in hospital. While all behaved well, I only mention those I personally witnessed—Davies, Turner, Conolly, also Lieutenant Gimlette of the Naval Brigade, who tended and brought back with an escort Lieutenant Royds of her Majesty's ship Carysfort. Principal Surgeon Macdowell was everywhere. It is needless to say that General Graham and his staff were in the thickest of everything. He rendered himself a mark for the enemy by a large red flag which was carried beside him, and which attracted a heavy fire. Admiral Hewett, General Baker, and Captain Caffin, of H.M.S. Sphinx, were with General Graham throughout. General Baker's bullet has just been extracted; he had kept in the saddle all day with two ounces of lead in his face.

BURYING THE DEAD.

A Trinkitat telegram says the bodies of Major Slade and Lieutenant Probyn were brought in on Saturday morning and buried inside the entrenchments, the Rev. Mr. Smith—known for his gallantry at Rorke's Drift—officiating. The same morning a party of the 42nd Highlanders, under Major Atkins, accompanied by Lieutenants Rufoe and Lloyd, marched to the scene of the defeat on the 4th of February, identified and buried the remains of Morice Bey, Dr Leslie, Major Forrestier Walker, and Captains Watkins and Carroll. The bodies of Morice Bey and Dr Leslie were found side by side within the front of the square.

THE BRITISH LOSSES.

A telegram from General Graham, at Teb, to the Secretary of State for War, says:—

No reply received to message sent to rebel chiefs. Advanced this morning from Fort Baker with entire available force of 3,000 infantry, 750 mounted troops, and 115 of Naval Brigade, six machine-guns, and eight Royal Artillery seven-pounders. Found rebels entrenched at Teb with Krupp guns. Moved to right, so as to turn their entrenchments, which were stormed and carried in rear, two successive positions being taken. Captured four Krupp guns, two brass howitzers, and a Gatling, besides a quantity of arms and ammunition. Loss of rebels very heavy, nearly 900 bodies being already counted in positions captured, irrespective of cavalry operations. Action lasted 3 hours, enemy showing desperate resolution and tenacity. Their force is reported as about 10,000. Our loss amounted to 28 killed, two missing, 142 wounded. The cavalry were very ably handled, and made some dashing charges; but I regret their heavy loss

List of casualties as follows:—Officers killed. — Lieutenant Freeman, 19th Hussars; Major Slade, 10th Hussars; Lieutenant Probyn, 9th Bengal Cavalry; Quartermaster Wilkins, 3rd Battalion King's Royal Rifles.

Officers wounded.—General Baker Pasha, severely; Lieutenant-Colonel Burnaby, severely; Lieutenant-Colonel Barrow, 17th Hussars, dangerously: Lieutenant Royds, R.N., dangerously (since dead); Brevet Major Brabazon, 10th Hussars, slightly; Captain Kellie, Royal Artillery, slightly; Veterinary Surgeon Beech, slightly; Quartermaster Watkins, Irish Fusiliers, slightly: Surgeon Turner, slightly: Major Dalgety, York and Lancaster Regiment, slightly; Captain Littledale, York and Lancaster Regiment, severely; Lieutenants Gordon (? Wolrige Gordon) and Macleod, Royal Highlanders, slightly; Captain Green, Royal Engineers, and Captain Wauchope, Royal Highlanders, Staff, slightly; Captain and Adjutant Pot and Major Allen, Royal Marines, slightly; Staff-Surgeon Martin, R.N., slightly.

A telegram received at the Admiralty from Admiral Hewett states that the Naval Brigade lost two men killed—J. Beard, of the Briton, and T. Marston, of the Dryad, and seven wounded.

THE SOUDAN.

AN ADVANCE.

Cairo, March 8th.

News has been received from Berber to the effect that 340 Egyptian soldiers have arrived from Khartoum.

The War Office forwarded to us last evening for publication the following telegram from Major-General Graham, addressed to the Secretary of State for War, and dated Suakin, yesterday, 4.15 p.m.:—

"Disembarkation proceeds rapidly, working all night to clear ships.

"All but Gordon Highlanders, King's Royal Rifles, half Nineteenth Hussars, with some mules and camels, have been brought from Trinkitat.

"Water supply and arrangements here very satisfactory. Camping ground very good.

"Health of troops excellent.

"No response from rebels as yet to proclamation."

Suakim, March 8th.

Osman Digna is still at the Tamanieb Wells, and is urging his men to fight, at the same time assuring them of success, and declaring that he will watch them afar off, and invoke the benediction of Allah and the Prophet upon them. A detachment of 300 cavalry will start on a reconnoissance this evening.

The report current here yesterday that 120 of the Amara tribe had arrived here was unfounded.

Cairo, March 8th.

Orders have been sent to Major-General Graham not to advance unless he has made sure of finding the enemy.

Sabet Pasha, Minister of the Interior, has resigned in consequence of differences with Mr. Clifford Lloyd, who is under-secretary in the department.

General Graham telegraphs he shall not be able to land his entire force, with the transport before another few days.

Mr. Edgar Vincent has startsd for England via Port Said and Marseilles.

Suakim, 8th.

A messenger who has just arrived from Tamanieb says that last night Osman Digna preached a holy war, urging that that the Prophet Mahommed himself at first failed, but finally triumphed. Osman had less than three thousand hearers. He promised them his blessing and the aid of God and the Prophet if they would fight. From the messenger's statement, however, it would seem that even Digna's immediate followers are completely demoralised, and that Osman would take no part in any future battle. The situation appears favourable for negotiation. Consul Baker has himself telegraphed to Sir E. Baring offering to go straight to Osman's camp and bring him to terms. The Consul considers it not improbable that the tribes would conclude peace and would undertake to keep the Berber road open. It is intended to send out cavalry to-night or early to-morrow morning in the direction of Tamanieb in order to discover the strength of Digna's following.

It is reported that General Gordon has recommended that the British force now at Saukim should attack Osman Digna without any delay. General Graham will therefore continue his preparations for a movement upon Thamanieb with all possible speed and will make an early forward movement, unless the proclamations recently disseminated should have the effect of dispersing the rebels, and of bringing Osman in to offer his submission. General Graham is desirous of having a battery of horse artillery to operate against Osman Digna's stronghold, and is also anxious for a supply of English horse for the Hussars, the animals taken from the Egyptians proving incapable of the heavy work. As time, however, is an object, it is probable that General Graham will move forward without waiting either for the battery or the English horses, but in that case he will not proceed beyond the position where Osman has his followers encamped. Should the enemy retire without offering fight, the British force would remain a few days in the neighbourhood, destroying the rebel forts, and then return to Suakim.

At stations on the new Southern Pacific Railroad the following signs are seen in front of tents and shanties "One Meal, 25 cents; Square Meal, 50 cents; Gorge, 75 cents."

THE DYNAMITE PLOT.

Paris, March 8th.

The Journal Le Matin to-day states that a son of O'Donovan Rossa has arrived in Paris, but that there is nothing to prove him to be connected with the Irish dynamite party, the members of which appear to belong to the extreme Clan-na-Gael section. The journal adds the brother of Brady, one of the Phœnix Park assassins, is at present living in a small hotel in the Quarter Latin, and receives his letters through a bookseller.

Inspector Moser, from Scotland-yard, will leave shortly for Bordeaux, where some Irish-Americans strongly suspected of complicity in the recent dynamite outrages are staying.

The list of suspected persons of this category now in France numbers eighty-three, all of whom are systematically watched by the police.

Pesth, March 8th.

A dynamite plot has been discovered in this city. Yesterday the police seized some explosive material which had reached certain anarchists by parcels-post. An investigation is proceeding.

Several detectives have left Paris for Bordeaux, there being reason to watch for dynamiters at that port.

A Halifax (Nova Scotia) telegram says the Lieutenant Governor of the province has been informed from Ottawa that the dynamiters are expected to renew their attempts to injure Government property in this city. A number of special constables have, in consequence been sworn in, and extra precautions are taken day and night.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The Nord America has brought the news of another great victory won by General Graham in Egypt. The fighting was of the most desperate description, as may be seen by the brief details in another column, supplied to us by one of the Nord America's passengers, who saw the official telegram in Gibraltar. The gallant General Stewart was killed at the head of his handful of cavalry. It is curious how Havas omitted to send news of this important fight.

The distinguished Italian poet de Amicis arrives here this morning from Montevideo, and all his admirers are requested to be on the Mole at 8 a.m. sharp, to accompany him to his hotel.

The weather on Sunday was half tears and half smiles, and the only thing that came off was the election of Deputies and Senators to the Provincial Chambers. Our colleagues are at furious variance as to whether official and illegal pressure was or was not brought to bear on the occasion. The Rocha list won everywhere.

Her Majesty's new Minister, the Honble Edmund Monson, will present his credentials to President Roca to-morrow, at 4 p.m. We understand that the ceremony will be unusually grand. Several leading English residents will be present. Full dress is "de rigeur."

We have received by the Nord America a copy of "The Cruise of the Falcon," by Mr. E. F. Knight, who has so many friends here. The book is pleasantly written, and when we have read it through, we will give our readers some extracts from it.

The following letter in the London Times strikes us as very remarkable indeed:—

To the Editor of the Times.

Sir,

On Monday morning during a heavy snowstorm a huge ball of fire nearly as large as a barrel fell within 20 yards of my residence, and when within a few feet of the ground exploded with terrific force. It wrecked every window on that side into 10,000 pieces, mostly thick plate glass, and doing considerable damage. I was sitting with my family at breakfast, and at the moment looking out of the window, so saw everything perfectly. It appeared as though fire was raining from above all round.

Another fell 200 yards off, burying itself into the ground 3ft., and destroying my water supply.

Another fell at a farm a quarter of a mile off, destroying a building, and stripping an immense tree from top to bottom, and threw down four horses at work.

It was the most appalling sight a human being could witness, and I could only imagine the end of all things had arrived.

I am, Sir, yours obediently,

William D. Taylor.

Blaendyffrn, Llandyssil, South Wales, Feb. 14.

In reference to an unnecessarily strong anonymous note which we received yesterday from Montevideo, stating that the news we gave about the gunboat Rivera having been wrecked on her terrestrial voyage across the city was incorrect etc, we beg to say that an English naval officer was our authority.

We welcome back to the Plate our esteemed friend Mr. C. F. Woodgate, who arrived in the Nord America. He has favoured us with a London paper of the 9th ult. It is not often we can get London papers to the Plate in 21 days. The news will be found in another column.

On Saturday a well dressed man of about 40 walked into the Capitania and asked to see the officer in charge. When that gentleman appeared his visitor said that, as the Port Captain was absent, he had come to offer to take his place, without any salary, until he returned. The officer told him that the Chief of Police was the proper man to apply to, and the poor lunatic then went away, having first shaken hands with every man in or near the Capitania.

The storm last week was specially furious in the South. Of one flock of 1400 sheep, which was being driven to new camp, 500 were killed on the road by the hailstones, which were of enormous size.

Number 5484 won the 10,000 nats. prize in yesterday's Capital Lottery.

The rain stopped the inauguration of the new Schools on Sunday.

On Sunday morning forty of our most distinguished members of the French element in this city assembled to welcome their Minister, D. Carlos Rouvier. He was received on the Mole and accompanied by all to his apartments.

The Provincial Bank has presented the National Government with a bill for the interest on the 370,581 nats voted by Congress for the purpose of acquiring the Navarro Viola Quinta, on which the National Arsenal is being raised. The interest already reaches some thousands of dollars.

The furniture sent to La Plata for the Government House is stuck in the mud there. It was loaded in the carts when the rain came down and rendered the roads impassable in ten minutes.

The two proposals sent in for lighting the city by Electricity—one by the Buenos Ayres Gas Company, the other by Mr W. R. Cassels—were opened yesterday at the Municipality. We understand that Mr. Cassels's bid is the lowest, and he offers ten times as much light as his competitor.

Argentine preserved meat appears to be in quite as little favour as Argentine pianos. The Health Board has reported that the Romani tinned meats are not up to the mark for the Navy, and the War Minister has resolved to buy no more of them.

Yesterday (Monday) at 12 30 p.m., a labouring man, Spaniard by birth, who had seated himself outside the gates of the Great Southern Terminus, whilst in the act of eating a sandia, suddenly gave up the ghost. The man was heated at the time, and we are of opinion that the cold sandia did the mischief.

During recent arrests of vagrants in Paris, nearly twenty men over ninety years of age were arraigned. Several of those taken had not slept in a bed, except when in gaol, for thirty years.

Tomas Drysdale y Co.

Dear Sirs,

I have much pleasure in stating that I cured all my flocks this season with the "Golden Leaf Ext act" and found the result highly satisfactory, and in future do not intend to use any other dip.

After first using the "Golden Leaf," I found it such a perfect cure for Scab that I recommended it to several of my neighbours who have all proved it equally good.

Yours truly
W. R. GRANT.

March 31st, 1884

Cedulas A	100
Cedulas E	88⅝
Cedulas F	83½
National Bank Shares....	129½
Old Gas Shares.....	1,650 m/c.

This being the account day for the month, a very large business was transacted; the Bolsa liquidator marked on his board:—

Vencimientos E	4,080,000
Vencimientos E	283,000
Bank Shares ...	29,720

Liquidation prices—

Cedulas E....	88⅞
Bank Shares..	129½

It may interest many in the market to take a glan at prices on this day last year, viz:—

Cedulas E ..	86½,	vencimientos 1,816,000
Bank Shares 103½,	"	61,290

The great rise in the value of National Bank Shares since March last year corresponds with the great growth of the Bank business, but the rise in Series E is only accountable on the plea of the emission being closed. What is very remarkable is the difference in the vencimientos of Bank Shares last year and now. To-day the whole business of the month in shares only amounted to 29,720 shares against 51,290 shares last year, whilst the business in Cedulas as measured by the vencimientos shows exactly the reverse, vencimientos to-day 4,080,000 against 1,816,000 in 1883. We opine, however, that Bolsa business in general shows a decline on former years, and so best. Few outsiders with money dabble in the market, and the ring sales are very much of a hand to mouth business carried on between the brokers themselves just merely to keep the Bolsa alive. The land business, which all last year gave so much occupation is at present very much at a stand-still, although at Mr. Room's office we notice the usual crowd of intending buyers inspecting plans, plans, &c.
There was more doing to-day on the Buenos Aires Bolsa than on the London Stock Exchange, and the close of the month's liquidation proved a surprise almost to the whole market. All who speculated on a fall in Cedulas and in Bank Shares, owing to the high money market, low exchange, and difficulty about discounts, found to their astonishment that they were wrong, and luckily for the bears, the bulls were content with small profits, otherwise a corner might have been made that would have ruined many, but the difference of 1 to 1½ per cent., was not too much for those engaged in selling stocks short, and the month closes with the stocks and Cedulas carried by force of borrowed money and held by parties who at the least let up will be delighted to sell out. A more exciting month's liquidation than the present we have not witnessed for some time, brokers were running about town from bank to bank, oledging stock and raising money; whilst at the ring there was a push, an uproar, and an excitement that almost deafened the outsiders, many of whom were our old friends with the long Neapolitan cigars who made such money on 'Change a few years ago. The luckiest men on the Bolsa were those who abstained from all speculation, since they were free from all risk and cared nil about the figures on the black board, but the fight to-day was one of the hardest we have witnessed, and people who rarely lose in stocks dropped money heavily both in Cedulas and bank shares.
Cedulas A ruled par, but all the speculation of the market is in Serie E, the cash sales amounting to the very large figure of 1,942,100. We note 600,000 sold in a single lot at 88⅞, and bought by a single broker. Where all the money came from to carry all the Cedulas astonished everyone. It was said on 'Change that the Cedula King has now taken off the market at least four millions Cedulas, which is indeed tremendous. National Bank shares ruled steady as a rock and nothing could break the market, prices opened with a boom at 129⅝, and closed at 129½; the cash sales reached 2,700, and for April 3,350, sold opening at 130⅛ and closing 131.
The following were the sales at the ring luring official hours:—
Cedulas—
For cash A 2,000 at 100
For cash E 1,538,000 at 88⅛-⅛-⅛-⅝-⅛-⅛-⅝ to 88½
National Bank Shares—
For cash 1,200 at 129½-⅝-⅔
For April 30th 1,200 at 130¼-131¼
Mr C. F. Woodgate was warmly welcomed on 'Change on his return from Europe, he arrived back in the Nord America and brings news of another great battle in the Soudan, about which Havas has forgotten to send us a line; he says that when the steamer call'd at Gibraltar the Commander of the garrison had the news. We give all the particulars we have of the battle in another column.
The Rosario and Campana Railway extension was one of the most brilliant operations in the London market effected for years, and shows when in good hands how new capital is raised. The sales were—
1st day £300,000
2nd day £900,000
4th day £1,800,000.
Thus the Syndicate got three times the amount they asked for.
We hear that there is a strong prejudice in London against everything offered by Parisian Syndicates, and only what is offered by the Rothschilds meets with the free support of the market.
Mr Peake of Rosario, Mr Tebbut of Pigue, and Mr Shand of Entre Rios, were welcomed.
The sale of 2 square leagues of land in Entre Rios, adjoining Mr Shand's estancia, for 2,000 pats per league, is reported; Mr Shand buyer.
The greatest news of the day was from the Municipality; two proposals for the City lighting were read out at 2 o'clock this afternoon.
The B.A. Gas Co. $4.15 m/n.
W. R. Cassels, Representative Brush Electric Company.
This proposal, a most lengthy document was really so complicated that we could not get at a figure to quote. We however learnt that Mr Cassels offers to light the whole city for a much lower price than gas. Three other proposals were sent in, but, not having complied with the law as regards the deposit of $10,000 gold as guarantee were not taken into consideration. They were not read and we could not find out who presented them.
At afterhoure National Bank Shares continued to rise, and prices for cash rose to 130½; and for end of April 131¼. Cedulas were not so active, but still held their own; and the scene at the liquidation desk baffles all description—at one time piles of Cedulas, and soon after Cedulas gone and replaced by pyramids of paper money. Mr L. Billinghurst, who was one of the largest dealers in Cedulas, paid into the liquidation one million patacons, and left with armfulls of Cedulas. The Cedula King, however, it is said, paid a still higher sum, and removed still larger bundles. At a quarter-past four o'clock excitement had reached its highest, and Mr. Schlesper mounted the table and on behalf of the liquidator called his auction. At first he announced that he would buy 31 Bank Shares, which was a mistake. He then offered as follows:—
To buy
66 Bank Shares, 131
100 " " 131
100 " " 131
100 " " 131
10,000 Cedulas F, 83⅛
10,000 " G, 88⅜
10,000 " " 88⅜
10,000 " " 88⅜
and amidst the roaring, shouting and clapping of hands of the bulls, the auction closed.
The Pomona will not sail before four o'clock on Wednesday morning. She will leave a full ship for Patagones.
Exchange the same; few bills offering, and Provincial Bank the principal drawer.
We refer to our Antwerp telegram in another column. The produce news is unfavourable.
The Minho quarantine will, we hear, terminate on Wednesday morning. The sick passenger on Flores Is and is convalescent and walking about.
Mr. Yarrow, who has arrived from the South, was welcomed on 'Change. He leaves for Montevideo to-morrow. Mr. Grant, from Azul, was also welcomed.
The death of Mr. John M. Gowland, the oldest English merchant in Montevideo, was announced on 'Change, 84 years of age. Deceased came to this country in 1819, and left this city for Montevideo where he resided ever since 1820. He was beloved [illegible] and respected by all, and for over [illegible] and a century occupied a prominent position in the commercial circle of Montevideo. His death will throw many of the first families in the Plate into mourning.
Mr. Nugnier who has arrived from Tandil reports the works for the railway bridge, pillars, &c., over the Chapeleofu Grande finished and those for the Chapeleofu Chico progressing fast.
The R. M. S. Avon left Rio yesterday; she is due in Montevideo on Thursday.

EDITOR'S TABLE

The Politeama was crowded on Sunday afternoon with little children and at night with children of a larger growth. The Circus Company is an excellent one. Mr. Fred Carlo's two specially trained horses are both beauties and wonders; they are not perfect in Spanish yet, but a word in English is enough for them. Madlle Zilda looks charming in all the different costumes put on her in her aerial sleep. The Carlo children, boy and girl, perform astounding feats on the trapeze, almost incredible for such young things. The boy Ventura is still more daring. Madlle. Austin is a very graceful rider, and most prepossessing in appearance. The life of the company, however, is Frank Brown, the Clown. We have never seen a better in any circus; how he can extract such sweet music from a tin whistle and a coffee pot is beyond our comprehension.

A new evening paper appears to-day—the Ultima Hora. This makes seven evening papers in this city.

A recent number of the Field (March 1st) contains a letter from an English settler in Texas, warning his countrymen against going out there to barbarously hard work and an unhealthy climate; he adds that any man with the capital required in Texas for a decent start, would do far better with it at home.

Gayarre, the great tenor, has been offered £400 per night for as many performances as he may choose to give in the United States.

The fair sex is beginning to push its way in our telephone and telegraph offices. Miss Magallanes has recently been appointed Director of the telegraph office at Lobos, and she is already a great favourite there. We hear that several ladies are now studying telegraphy, with the view of obtaining appointments. It is far pleasanter work than the sewing machine.

On Saturday night a man named Peña was murdered in a house in Calle Chile. He went into the next room to ask its occupant for forty paper dollars which he owed him. Instead of the money he received a fatal stab in the lungs, from which he died in a few hours. The criminal fled, and wounded a boy who tried to stop him, but he was caught by the policeman at the corner.

A waggon attached to a train running between Ferrari and La Plata took fire on Saturday, owing to an axle getting heated. Fortunately, the train was stopped and the fire extinguished before any great harm was done.

Cardinali, the tenor, who was here last year, is coming out for the Colon this season also.

El Dia says that ten more electric lights are to be erected in La Plata. This ought certainly be enough for the new capital, till it grows a little.

The business of closing up the year's accounts in the National Contaduria is so heavy that the clerks were at work all day on Sunday, from 11 a.m. till 6 p.m.

There was a desperate chase on Sunday evening up Calles Corrientes and Perana. The quarry was a carriage containing a young gentleman who was eloping with a young lady. The pursuers were a lot of policemen and a stout old lady who shouted lustily "My daughter! my daughter!" When the carriage was caught, only the young girl was inside, the gay cavalier having jumped out and escaped.

Double Effect.—(On the wedding tour) "Don't sit so near the window, darling, that we may have the carriage all to ourselves, for there is somebody sure to get in if he sees your pretty face!" (Thirty years later) "Move up to the window, old woman, so that we may have the compartment to ourselves; you will frighten all the other passengers away, you know!"

Mr. Medina, the enterprising manufacturer of Argentine pianos, has given up the business as a bad job. We never knew before that there was such a thing as an Argentine made piano, any more than an Argentine locomotive or steam hammer.

Twenty nine new posts will shortly be created in the Custom House. About ten thousand applications for same may be expected, and we dont envy Dr Plaza all the letters of recommendation he will have to face, H. E. ought to adopt the plan of a well-known member of Parliament, wait till they are all received, pitch them all, unopened, into the fire, and then note them down as "answered"!

To the Editor of the Standard

I beg a small place in your columns to inform those who have hitherto helped the work carried on in this School that their assistance is more than ever needed; as by the doctor's advice I am obliged to withdraw entirely from it for a time, so as to allow my nervous system an opportunity to recover itself.

The treasurer for the school is Mr. Hudson, 77 Calle Callao.

Yours truly
